*Each of us brings different skills to community service.
Many cannot offer time and expertise week after week throughout the year, but can consider larger financial gifts.
As a token of our appreciation, those donors of $500 or more will receive an autographed copy of the highly acclaimed Adirondack Atlas by Jerry Jenkins.*

The book was conceived of as a project that would bridge perspectives and cross town lines...an invaluable resource for anyone interested in the region's environment, history, geography, or local economy. Author Jerry Jenkins led a CAP-21 Bog Walk in Old Forge last summer followed by a program on the Atlas. Jerry is a Wildlife Conservation Society (WCS) researcher, the director of the White Creek Field School and a seasoned naturalist who has been learning and teaching about northern ecosystems for many years.
